Preliminary hearing set for drug dealers

A preliminary hearing for seven of eight men arrested last May and charged with possession of 19,000 pounds of marijuana with intent to deliver has been scheduled July 7 before Justice Joe Dobson.

The seven, arrested after allegedly smuggling the contraband into Port Greenville on a shrimp trawler, are Michael O. McKee, 28, Cincinnati, Ohio; Barry Mathieson, 27, Detroit, Mich.; Michael M. Ogden, 27, New Smyrna Beach, Fla.; Michael S. Tiemer, 27, Bradenton, Fla.; Dennis Leighton, 31, Milford, Ohio; Jack P. Zatz, 27, North Lauderdale, Fla.; and Michael Howard, 27, Coral Springs, Fla.

William T. Allan, 28, Boca Raton, Fla., was bound over to await action of the July grand jury following a preliminary hearing May 19.

Patrick M. Flannery, Covington, Ky., attorney for Leighton, McKee and Howard, is predicting that the hearing may last "two to three days."

All but Howard and McKee were arrested within hours of each other May 12 following surveillance of unloading activities by several law enforcement agencies.

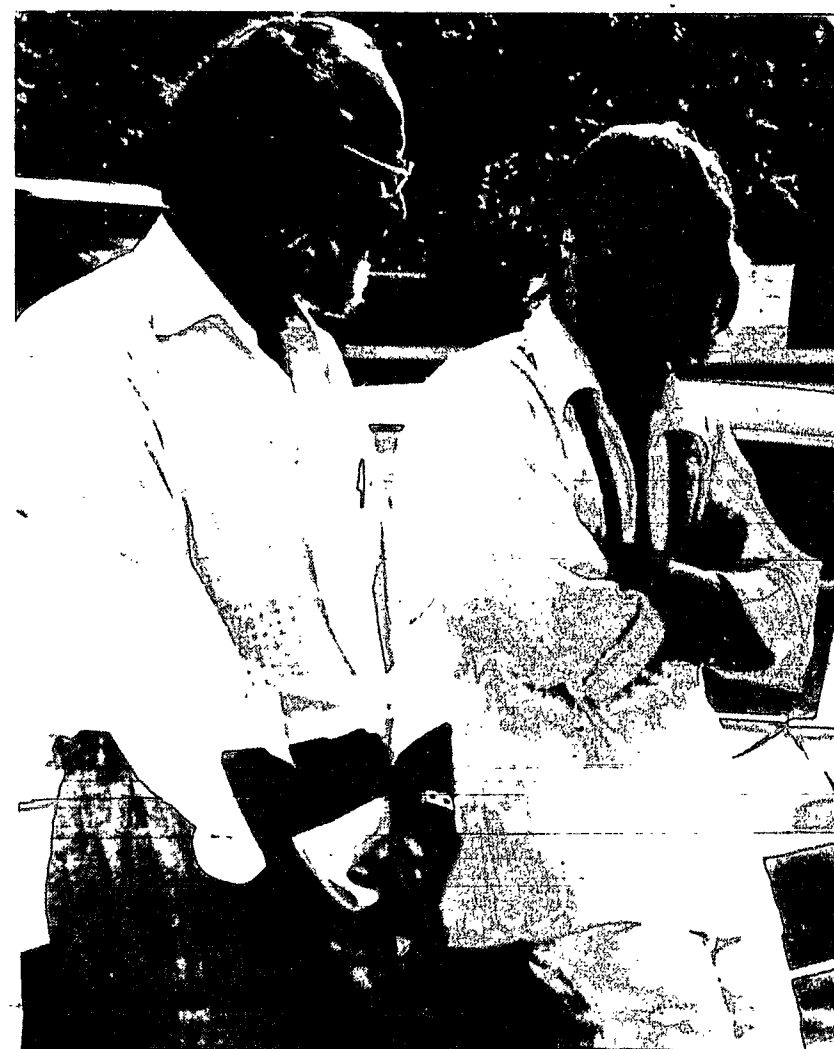

Howard was arrested May 13 when he returned to a house in the Catahoula community which the group was reportedly using for a storage center prior to distribution of the marijuana. McKee, who bought the property two weeks earlier, turned himself in to District Attorney Albert Nacale the following week.

All of the defendants, with the exception of Zatz, were released on $50,000 bond following several day's confinement in the Hancock County Jail. Zatz posted a $75,000 bond.

A report in the Cincinnati Enquirer, (Cincinnati was the alleged destination point) said that Howard was slightly injured last week during a shooting incident in Pompano Beach, Fla.

According to the report, Howard was shot in the elbow by a former Cincinnati acquaintance, following an argument over a woman.

Local attorneys who will participate in the July 7 preliminary hearing include Walter Gex III who is assisting Flannery and Talbot Smith of Ann Arbor, Mich., counsel for Mathieson, Zatz, Tiemer, and Allan. John Genin is assisting Jeffrey Melden of Gainesville, Fla., who is representing Ogden.

Michael Howard, right, one of eight men arrested in connection with the alleged smuggling of 19,000 pounds of marijuana into Hancock County, was pictured last May conferring with his attorney, Patrick Flannery. Howard was shot last week during an incident in Pompano Beach, Fla.

Andrew Jackson team leads membership drive

The Andrew Jackson team took honors for bringing in the most new members to the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce during the chamber's annual spring banquet held Wednesday at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Mrs. Eloise Bradbury, team leader, received a plaque as the individual securing the most memberships.

Donald Payne, president of Marine Concrete Structures, was guest speaker.

Following his address, Mrs. Anita D. Lamb, Chamber president, reported that the organization has "feared both a doubling of the membership and of our expansion services."

Among the organization's accomplishments in the past year were the completion of a survey of Navy Oceanographic personnel who have transferred to the county, to get their personal reasons for opting for the move. According to President Lamb, this survey, when combined with one near completion which involves all NSTI employees "will provide an objective analysis of the relative attractions of Hancock County and other nearby counties by new arrivals."

MPA gathers for 110th convention

Members and wives of the Mississippi Press Association gathered at the Broadwater Beach Hotel in Biloxi June 17-19 for the group's 110th annual convention.

The three day schedule of activities, presided over by association president David Webb, included a Seafood Safari banquet Thursday night and addresses Friday from guest speakers Dr. David Sansing of the University of Mississippi history department, Robert H. Johnson of the Associated Press and Malcolm F.

Maillette, director of the American Press Institute.

At the group's general session Saturday morning guest speakers Walter Logan, UPI foreign editor, and ANPA vice president Michael J. Kelly delivered addresses on "The State of the World" and "Advertising in the American Revolution" followed by the presentation of the 1976 Better Newspaper Awards.

The three day session ended with the election of new officers.

Ask the VA

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q - My husband had honorable service from 1957 to 1960. He had no service disabilities but died in a VA hospital. Will the VA pay a burial allowance?

A - Yes. Although veterans with peacetime service do not normally have entitlement to the burial allowance, the fact that your husband died while hospitalized by the VA gives him entitlement. Application should be made to any VA office.

Red Cross facing financial crisis

A financial crisis exists for the American Red Cross due to a depletion of disaster funds, Warren Carver, Hancock County chapter chairman, learned today. He said the depletion was caused by "unprecedented major disaster expenditures."

Carver said he learned from a Red Cross report that expenditures or commitments to aid victims of natural catastrophes are approaching $33 million and resources currently available to the organization are

"grossly inadequate to support an expenditure level of this magnitude."

Red Cross is currently involved in providing aid to victims in Guam and other islands in the Pacific; to those left homeless in Idaho following last weekend's rupture of the Teton Dam; and to persons in Oklahoma, Mississippi, Texas, and Alaska.

The report, Carver said, shows that total cost of the Guam operation will be approximately $10 million. Initial estimates indicate that the Teton Dam disaster may exceed $2.6 million, which in Tulsa, Ok., an estimated 1,000 families, forced from their homes by flood waters, will need Red Cross help before the operation is completed.

Carver said that Red Cross relief to disaster victims includes food, shelter, clothing, medical and nursing care, building repair, and providing occupational supplies and equipment.

Contributions, with checks earmarked for Red Cross Relief Disaster, should be sent to American Red Cross, P. O. Box 232, Bay St. Louis, MS, 39520.

Senior Aides donation

Francis Adkins, coordinator of Senior Aides, an organization for senior citizens sponsored by the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District, presents

Waveland Mayor Johnny Longo with a $360 check which will go toward building a senior citizens center. The ceremonies took place last week at Buccaneer State Park.

SMPDD senior aides help finance

Waveland senior citizens center

When members of the Southern Mississippi Planning and District's Senior Aides Program learned that Mayor John Longo and the Board of Aldermen of Waveland were trying to establish a community center that would also incorporate a Senior Citizens Center, the Senior Aides decided to help.

After a rummage sale and bake sale, the Senior Aides from the three coastal counties gathered at Buccaneer State Park in Waveland and presented Mayor Longo with a check for $360 to be used toward establishing the Waveland Senior Citizens Activity Center. Donations from senior citizens in Pearlport accounted for $100 of the total.

Senior Aides Gaston Moreau and Humbert Sandi have been assigned to assist Lloyd McLaughlin, coordinator of the Senior Center, appointed by Mayor Longo. Moreau and McLaughlin have been building work tables and other items for use in the Center and renovating rooms designated for the Senior Citizens Center. Instruction will be offered to seniors in varied arts and crafts including quilting, needlecraft, woodcraft, and ceramics.

Plan ahead for economical summer traveling

By PATRICIA COUCH

Summertime traveling with the family can be a relaxing vacation or it can turn into a financial disaster. Since one of your biggest vacation expenses is your hotel or motel bill, here are some suggestions that may help you cut down on those costs.

When you make a room reservation ahead of time (which is a good idea during the busy summer months), ask for a room by price category. Most hotels and motels have three categories of rooms: economy, standard and luxury. If you want the minimum rate, don't hesitate to ask for it. Most hotels provide each room with a radio, TV, phone and air-conditioning, and so the price of the room will have little effect on your accommodations.

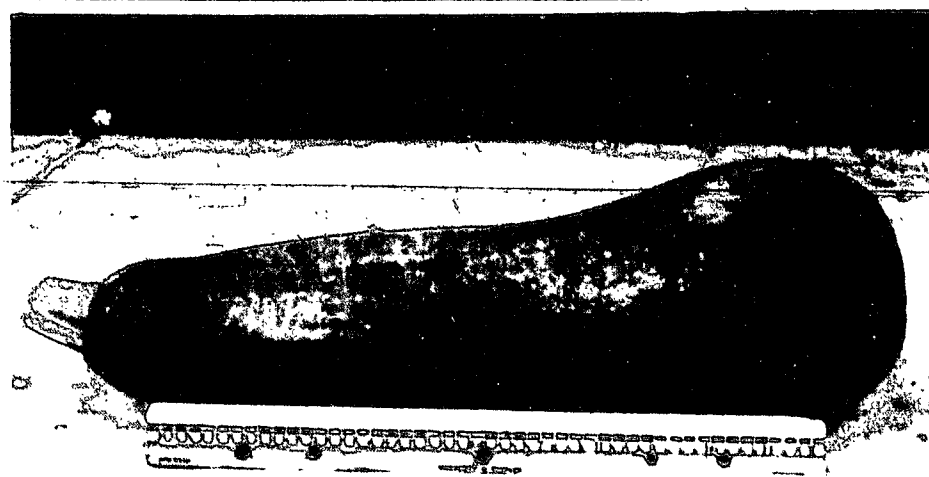

If you're traveling with children, inquire about the "family plan" many hotels feature. There's no need to pay for an extra room when most hotels and motels will provide folding beds free of charge or for a small fee. Some hotels also have special meal-ticket programs for families which will cut down on your dining bills.

Don't by-pass those famed old hotels in the downtown area of most large cities. Many of these reputable establishments have cut their room fees considerably in order to compete with the large motor inn chains. If you're interested in the posh atmosphere of an elegant old hotel, compare prices and make reservations before your vacation begins.

Be careful about check-out time wherever you stay. If you want to stay an hour or two after the traditional check-out time, notify the manager directly. Unless your room is needed at once, you'll probably be allowed to stay without charge. But if you stay as long as three hours past check-out, you may be charged $5 or more. Be aware of these additional costs and plan your day accordingly.

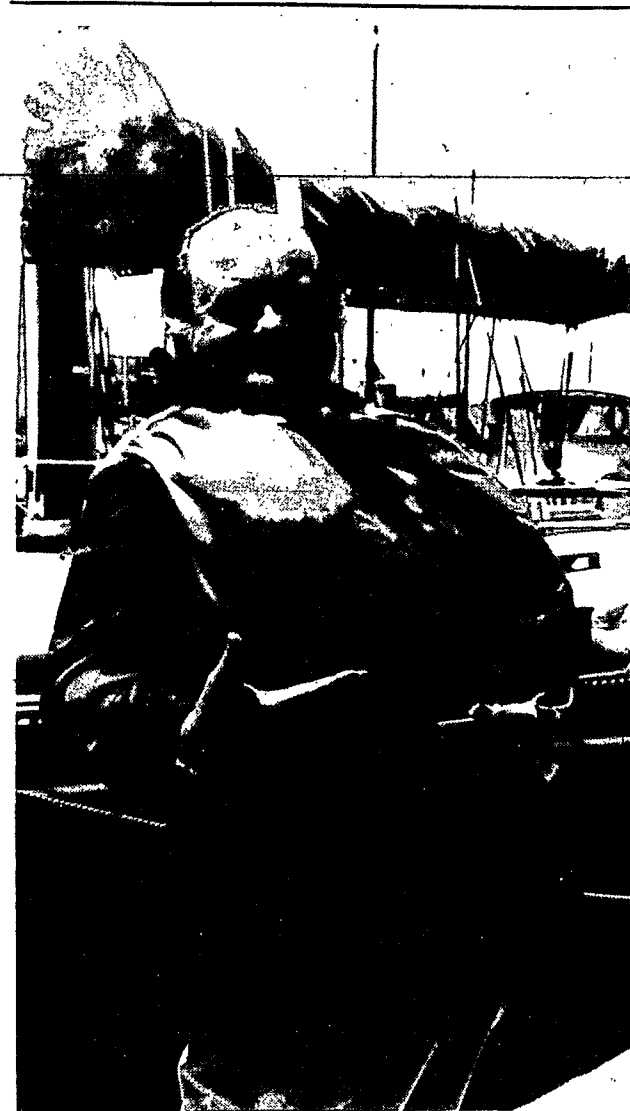

If you want to save money, forget room service. There is always an additional charge added to the room service bill, and the prices on the room service menu are usually higher than the prices on the hotel's coffee shop menu. Consider room service a luxury.

SQUASH ANYONE? This five pound 12 ounce zucchini measured over 15 inches and was grown in the garden of Mrs. Elise Beauchamp of Bay St. Louis. We don't know if it's a record but it's one of the largest we've seen.

A steam-powered tricycle built in 1769 could carry four people and go at two miles per hour.

Make certain it fits!

William Conrad, star of the television series "Cannon," uses his ample size to stress the importance of a good fit in a personal flotation device, (PFD) commonly known as a lifejacket. The Coast Guard Auxiliary emphasizes the legal requirement that every motor boat must have an approved PFD available for every passenger. For a courtesy motor boat safety exam, contact any Coast Guard Unit or William Carlin, Auxiliary Flotilla 35, Pass Christian, telephone 864-9165.

'Lavender Hill Mob' comes to ETV June 26

"The Lavender Hill Mob," starring Alex Guinness, will be presented on ETV's "Film Classics Internationale" at 8 p.m., Saturday, June 26. The 1952 release can be seen on the Mississippi Educational Television Network, channel 19, Biloxi.

Guinness, who describes his gleaming-eyed bowler-hatted character as the "fussy" type, plays a prim, innocuous bank clerk with a hidden streak of nonconformity. Action reaches the peak of hilarity when he carries out the universal larcenous dream of robbing a mint. This is accomplished by melting gold bullion in the form of miniature replicas of the Eiffel Tower. Joining Guinness in the comedy riot are Stanley Holloway and Audrey Hepburn (in a cameo role).

Insurance Institute advises policy procedures following loss

Since we're now into hurricane season, it's vital that every homeowner along the Gulf Coast know exactly what type insurance he has, and what additional coverage he might consider.

The Insurance Information Institute notes that while most property insurance policies do cover wind damage, the usual property insurance policies — except under limited circumstances — do not provide protection to homes or household possessions for damage caused by tidal wave, high water or overflow whether wind-driven or not. An exception is a loss caused by rain entering a building through an opening made by wind.

The Institute also points out there are many kinds of insurance which cover movable properties in case of floods. For example, automobile comprehensive policies cover losses caused by flooding.

SPECIAL CATASTROPHE PROCEDURES

The insurance industry has special catastrophe procedures established should a hurricane strike the Gulf Coast.

Loss adjusters are often on their way to an area — even before the hurricane hits — to open emergency field offices and thus be in a position to immediately begin adjusting losses and speeding settlements and payments to owners of damaged property.

BEFORE THE STORM
In order to speed the processing of claims, the Institute recommends that all homeowners:

The tallest basketball player of all time was Amil Rached of Brazil who was 7 feet 7-5/8 inches tall.

SPORTS SHORTS
The tallest basketball player of all time was Amil Rached of Brazil who was 7 feet 7-5/8 inches tall.

—Make an itemized list of personal property, including furnishings, clothing and valuables. Photos are helpful. These steps will assist the adjuster in speeding the processing of claims and also help to prove uninsured losses, which are tax deductible.

—Keep their policies in a safe place, such as a safety deposit box. Know the name and location of their local agents and the company which issued the policy.

AFTER THE STORM
If your home, apartment or business has been damaged, here's what to do:

—Make temporary repairs to prevent further loss from rain, wind or looting. The expenses of such repairs are covered by most policies, so save receipts.

—Contact your agent or company as soon as possible. If you have to leave home, leave an address or telephone number where you can be reached.

—Be patient. All losses will be adjusted and claims paid as quickly as possible, but hardship cases are handled first.

—Don't assume your settlement will be the same as your neighbor's policy forms differ and storm damage is erratic.

THE OLD
PASTOR
SAYS...

By L. S. WALKER

WHEN A MAN IS NOT PREPARED TO DIE, he has failed to make the most vital preparation for living.

When John F. Kennedy rode along the streets of Dallas on the day of his assassination bystanders must have felt that he "had it made." Young, educated, wealthy, an attractive wife and family, he was President of the greatest nation on earth and a world figure. But a rifle cracked and now all that really mattered was how things stood between John F. Kennedy and God.

But whether rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief, it always comes to how things stand between us and God. But why wait until then? That is all that matters anytime!

"For it is written, As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God. So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God" (Rom. 14:11-12). The student must face examinations and give account of how well and wisely he has used his time and prepared for such accounting. We must give account to the government of our financial income when such tax time comes around. The salesman must turn in his report to his superior. Why should it be thought a strange thing that we mortals must give account to our Maker for the deeds done in the body - the way we have lived our lives? Each of us shall give just such an account - either at the judgment seat of Christ (1 Cor. 5:10, Rom. 14:10) for the redeemed, or at the "great white throne" judgment (Rev. 20:12) for the unsaved.

We have a date with Death, an appointment with the Almighty. It may not be on our itinerary or little book of engagements, but it is on His schedule.

The Rich Farmer in our Lord's parable (Luke 12:13-21, read also Jer. 17:11) had the wrong calendar. It said, "Many years," but God said,

"This day." Be sure your calendar corresponds with God's. More important than daylight saving time is soul-saving time.

A girl critically injured in an automobile accident, said to her mother, "You taught me how to smoke a cigarette, dress in keeping with the latest fashions, and handle a cocktail glass, but you never told me how to be saved. You saw that I attended the best schools for the best in education to prepare me for life. What I need now is to be prepared to die, but you never told me about that." There is nothing morbid about making sure you are ready to die. For a Christian, it is preparation for life's greatest adventure.

Jesus warned: "For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" (Matt. 16:26).

In arranging our priorities, it would be well to remember that there is no salvation beyond the grave.

Horse sense

Several copies of SUNDAY ECHOES got washed in the printing equipment last week, resulting in some frosty remarks being delivered to our offices. We promptly decided to expand our staff and add a little horse-sense to the scene. The new editor-for-a-day promptly typed out some instructions for us to follow, and filled the paper with news of his con-temporaries. Wasn't too long before Lilly Harmon came by with dog, Friday, and took our new editor (way) Said his name is Pistol Pete, which judging by the lively directions issued during his short stay, is a fitting handle.

Pepper Pot by Dr. Pepper

I have de-handled that this column be put at the top of the page. Last Week's sideways stuff is out. Out. OUT! This paper has got to come around to recognizing the value of my works which one day will probably rank with those of people like, Norman Rockwell, Durdan Rockhurst, Chip O.F. Rhodblock, Rap Iids, E.V. Erast, I.N. Dianalps, G.R. Eatdivide, and so forth. These people are all authorities in their own right, and I - Dr. Pepper, will be among them before I'm through.

Of course, this is not to say I am brash, or outspoken, or anything, but more than I am a true, honest, loyal, and steadfast representative of pet rocks from all over the Universe and across the World, and around places like that.

The responsibility of presenting our the correct point of view on any given stoney subject to a varied and vast readership, similar to that held by Sunday Echoes, is an awesome thing. I shall do my best but unless we can get these boneheads squared around, this column is going to get misplaced in every edition to our detriment.

Like I said last week, I have talked to several legal people and am eying the firm of Rockledge and Crumble to bring our case before. Rockledge and Crumble have a fine reputation for bringing people along quite far - and with confidence, fore they encounter any "adness" of footing.

I am prepared to give these "adness" of footing. I am prepared to give these "adness" of footing. I am prepared to give these "adness" of footing.

Editor retires

Lilly Harmon takes off with our temporary editor, Pistol Pete, after he completed typing out bunch of new edicts (See front page).

The Sea Coast Echo Editor - Neville R. Jacob (J-J) Now, onto the subject for this week.

Contest No. 18

Well, where/what is it?

"Well, where/what is it?" will portray a different, well known area scene, or article, location or item for each contest. Each will be presented in disguised photographic form, with the complete description being provided upon completion of each contest. Clues, in the form of poetic verse, will be given, with additional lines being added each week the contest location or item remains unsolved.

It takes the "Where" to win as well as the "What"

Okay already - we have the message (from a whole host of people) Contest No. 18 is a nasty. We called the International Contest Dubbing Co., Inc., this week and told them that "I'll now a grauerke! And seldom do contests become grauerke! Anyhow, another clue is added and, to add zest, we're showing a little more of the scene. Next bunch of entries will be needed on Thursday, June 24, 1976. Good Luck! (J-J)

Clue No. 1 With water here, It's all around they say, At least it is Where this place is Way out into the Bay!

Clue No. 2 It's not as hard As it may look When water flows right way, Think now of when The winds did blow Back on another day.

Clue No. 3 Most living here Have been upon This stretch of water shown, And all have crossed, Though further up, In groups and on their own.

Clue No. 4 In trying to help You solve this puzzle We do admit to some Slight of tense In time, not place Think storm, not clear, or sun.

Rules

1. "Well, where/what is it?" is designed to be fun contest only, although the first correct answer opened by the Weekly Supplement editor will receive two complimentary passes to the Star Theatre.
2. Entries should be addressed to: Contest No. 18, Sunday Echoes, Sea Coast Echo, 112 South 2nd Street, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi 39520. Entries received each week will be held until noon on the Thursday preceding publication of that weekend's Sunday Echoes.
3. Employees of the Sea Coast Echo or their families are ineligible. All entrants must be over 18 years old.
4. Names of winners will be published in subsequent issues.
5. Additional clues will be published each week until the contest is won. A full picture of the contest's location, or identification, will be published along with the winner's name.

stack trophies, practice hard

Photographs and story by Neville R. Jacob

South Mississippi Horse Show, and recipient of the 45 point accumulation trophy, blanket and buckle, Travis rates Western Pleasure, Barrels, and Poles, as one, two, three in that sequence as his show preferences. Travis, who also travels the show circuit, agrees with his sister in choice of arena, citing Hancock County Fairgrounds as their number one choice.

"I don't like those long rides to and from a horse show."

"The closer-in the show, the more time we have to work with the horses," Travis explained.

He said that after they get back home there is still much to be done.

"We have to check the horses over as we unload them from the trailer to the pasture, then we unhook the trailer. The next day we have to start off leading the saddles and doing equipment maintenance for the next show."

Both riders began with a Christmas present of their first horses in 1973.

It was a little like introducing ducks to water.

Since that time it has been practice, shows, more practice, and now and then - for variation - a Mardi Gras parade.

SCHOOL TAKES

Rebecca said she isn't too fond of school, preferring instead to be busy outside, but even so manages a steady flow of A's and B's.

A fourth grade student at Annunciation School, Kim, she this year captured a Certificate of Merit for her cooperation, "sportment, and all."

Her mother, says she is an invaluable "house aide," and one who likes cooking, folding towels, and keeping her room clean.

Wanting to learn embroidery, Becky is presently mastering the more basic techniques of sewing, an attribute that came in handy when helping to make her "angel" costume last year for the school's Christmas play.

Reflecting her "out doors" preferences, she is a good athlete, having placed first in the 50-yard dash, high jump, and sack races, and third in the chun-up, at Annunciation's spring track meet.

Too, she is fond of swimming, football, kick-ball, baseball, and basketball, and even likes picking products of the vegetable garden.

PREFERS FARMERS' LIFE

Travis too is an active scholar, gaining A's and B's in academic pursuits.

Even more oriented towards the outdoors, he prefers the farmer's life.

Dennis Ory takes first in jockey standings

(Special to The Echo)
PEARL RIVER, La. - Dennis Ory took advantage of Charlie Silkwood's absence Sunday at Oak Downs to take over first place in the jockey standings, and Rocky Harris tied Merlin Marechal for the top spot among trainers.

Ory rode nine winners on the 17-race program to up his total number of wins to 87 for the year. Silkwood has ridden 85 winners.

Harris saddled three winners to tie with Marechal in the trainer standings at 27 victories each.

In the 440-yard 14th race, Danica Thomas' Time Check set a new meet record with a 23.02 clocking against Sassafras (23.81). The previous best quarter-mile mark was 23.19 set April 11 by Missy's Filly, owned by W.J. Cameron of Hancock County.

There will be no racing Sunday at Oak Downs because of the Pearl River Catfish Festival to be held on the racetrack grounds.

Sunday's results:
1) 250 yards, It's Another Boy, no time, Merlin Marechal, owner and trainer; John Hirdes, jockey. Little Diamond, second.

2) 330 yards, Gray Ghost, 18.40 seconds, J.D. Ory, owner; Rocky Harris, trainer; Dennis Ory, jockey. Fly Dusty Leo, 18.74. Moon Chips, 18.77.

3) 3 furlongs, True Squaw, 38.80, W.J. Fandal, owner; Rocky Harris, trainer; Dennis Ory, jockey. Eskimo Money, 38.93. High Perion Star, 39.11.

'77 license tags have new look

The 1977 Mississippi license plate that goes on sale to the public Oct. 1 will have a refreshing appearance.

The passenger vehicle plate will consist of the usual six digits—three letters and three numbers. But, in addition, the new plates will have a graphic design of the state flower in the center with the slogan "The Hospitality State" imprinted.

Colors for the 1977 tag will be red letters and numbers on a white background with a red border. "Mississippi" and the slogan will be in dark green, with the magnolia leaves in a light green.

These plates will initiate the five-year license plate and decal program adopted by the 1976 legislature. Instead of purchasing a new tag each year, tag buyers will purchase different colored decals.

Because of the staggered registration plan enacted by the 1976 legislature, the program also requires that the month of purchase be displayed on the top left hand corner and the year of purchase at top right.

The original purchase of 2,243,356 tags at cost of $7.995 has been awarded to Columbus Marble Works of Columbus, MS, the low bidder.

Tennis registration opens

Boys and girls between the ages of eight and 12 who wish to participate in the tennis program sponsored by Bay St. Louis Parks and Playgrounds should be on hand for registration Monday, June 21 at 8 a.m. at Bay High Tennis Courts.

The program will begin that day and conclude July 30 with classes held Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 8-10 a.m.

Tennis racquets will be provided for those who do not have one. For additional information, call 467-4440.

Unusual strain

After reading of huge locally grown tomato crops, Dr. A.K. Martinovich Jr., Bay St. Louis, called attention to his unusual variety of the plants. Known as "bathtub tomatoes" (due primarily to their being grown in a bathtub) the plants are expected to yield above average, a single tomato.

Two shut outs highlight local path action

When Coast Electric's Scott Cox stole home in the second, he never thought it would be enough to win—but he was wrong. Cox went on to strike out 10 and walk five Thursday as he shut-out Rotary International 2-0 at Tiger Field.

Going the distance, he picked up his second win against no losses.

Bobby Richardson, Mike Richardson and Dwayne Lafontaine all singled for Coast Electric. An insurance run was added in the fourth when Tommy Godwin was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded.

Blaine Thomas was tagged with the loss, fanning seven and yielding three hits. Thomas also went two-for-three to pace Rotary at the plate.

In the second game, Dixie Realty's Kevin McCaleb used his team's 10-hit attack and tough defense as he handled Chasez Construction 22-0. McCaleb had two hits and scored four times and Bruce Morreale knocked out two doubles and a single to lead Dixie with the bat.

Donald Carver absorbed the loss for Chasez, getting help from Charles Lafontaine and David Smith. Carver and Ray Crosby singled for the losses.

Play continues this afternoon with a 3 p.m. opener, American Legion vs. Dixie Realty, followed by Coast Electric vs. Chasez Construction.
